MAN HELD FOR ATTACK ON GIRL; GARBAGE GHOST WILL NOT DOWN

13-YEAR-OLD VICTIM IS IN THE HOSPITAL

Adelberto Estrada, Mexican, age 21, living at 139 First street, was placed in the city jail at this place last night, charged with the rape of the 13-year old daughter of Mrs. Loieddo Alveres, of 791 11th street. His alleged victim is reported to be in a local hospital, and in critical condition.

The man was arrested on complaint of the girl's mother.

Estrada when seen at the city jail last night hung his head and said nothing. He is said to be one of the "sporty" members of the Mexican colony, given to the wearing of finery.

He probably will be arraigned before Police Justice C. A. Odell this morning.

The arrest was made by Sergeant Jones.

CARNATIONS: PINK, WHITE FOR MOTHERS

There will be a carnation for every coat lapel when the Elks gather in their club rooms next Tuesday evening to celebrate Mother's Day.

A pink carnation, vibrant symbol of animation and life will be worn for the mothers that live, and a white carnation, sweet emblem for the mothers that have passed on, will be distributed among the Elks.

A program of sweet and tuneful melodies is being arranged by the committee. There will be old-fashioned songs that will awaken memories of the days when these Elks were wee bits of throbbing humanity, held close in the sheltering arms of the best mother in the world.

Maybe you'll feel a lump come into the throat as some half-forgotten refrain which Mother cooed in the "dear dead days of long ago," comes back to you.

Maybe there will be a tightening of the heart strings.

But whether you smile or whether you sob as the songs are given, you'll be a better man for being present and joining in the community singing which Percy Neal will direct.

Percy is coming over from Berkeley just to help the boys in the best ceremony that an Elk or any other man can take part in.

Art Alstrom was awfully busy yesterday getting the words assembled for the singing of "Old Kentucky Cradled Me When I was Born," and some songs a lot older.

Miss Patterson, sweet singer of Richmond, is going to give some solo numbers, and so will a son of Fire Chief Lemoin, who is said to have a voice of power and sweetness.

Judge A. B. McKenzie is going to deliver the address of the evening.

PLAYGROUNDS ASSURED FOR CITY SCHOOLS

A model playground will be put in at Peres school.

The city will be asked to appropriate $10,000.

A playgrounds supervisor will be employed on an all-time basis for $3600 a year.

These and other plans have been evolved by the playgrounds committee which has been at work for sometime in Richmond, and which last night met at Lincoln school.

Big Sums For Maintenance

Furthermore, $20,000 to $35,000 will be spent in the maintenance of these playgrounds if the project proves as workable as it is plausible.

Peres by reason of its fairly central location will be more elaborately equipped at the outset. It will afford amusement to a greater number of children. Provision will be made for baseball, tennis, volley ball and even a shallow wading pool.

Playgrounds In 3 Sections

The place will be divided into three sections: one for girls, one for boys, and one for the little fellows.

Washington and Grant schools will come in for early and proper consideration. More ground probably will be acquired at Washington.

The other schools of the city will be given such attention as may be possible, physical and topographical conditions considered.

The special committee, composed of R. W. Hanna, W. T. Helms and V. D. Brammer last night submitted their report which was resultant from an exhaustive and conscientious survey of the needs, costs and possibilities.

Those present last night included Mrs. H. A. Stiver, Charles Renwick, Aubrey Wilson, J. O. Ford, (who was made chairman, Hanna having resigned,) W. T. Helms, R. H. Slattery, Claude Clark, V. D. Brammer, Henry A. Johnson, Judge C. D. Hanmum and Rev. Paul Little.

The committee will present their findings in due form to the city council next Monday evening.

CHICK BARRY QUITS MILLER ICE CREAM CO.

Chick Barry, director of the orchestra which bears his name, and de luxe dispenser of jazz music, has severed his connection with the Miller Ice ream Company, of Oakland, by resignation, and will be employed by another firm in Oakland.

American Mother Deplores Affront To Old Glory

Editor, Record-Herald:
Sir:—

I was one of the many spectators of the parade of the school children; was interested in several ways as two of my sons were among the marchers. I was impressed by the little fellow who held the colors so proudly—was impressed in a different way by the men who stood around me who are not proud enough of the Flag to raise their hats as it went by.

This slight would not have been allowed to go unnoticed several years ago.

Are we less patriotic or only careless?

AN AMERICAN MOTHER OF FIVE SONS.

Veale Has Device For The Insane

Yesterday the eighth annual convention of the California State Division of the International Association for Identification was called to order. An address of welcome was given by Mayor C. H. Hayden.

Police officers of Richmond expect to attend the sessions from day to day as may be advisable.

A new type of paraphernalia for transporting insane persons and designed to protect patients and officers from injury has been invented by Sheriff R. R. Veale. One set was received by the sheriff and occasioned considerable comment among early arrivals of delegates to the annual convention of the California Branch of the International Bureau of Identification.

The "hobbler," as it has been dubbed by deputies, consists of a great piece of canvas, scores of rivets and a myriad of straps. It is designed so that the patient is wrapped in the canvas so a flap securely holds his feet while straps and buckles across the body and near the neck pervent usage of arms. Officers who saw the "hobbler" yesterday pronounced it the most effective and safe means of transporting insane patients that they have known.

Struggles with insane patients in which officers might have been severely injured led the sheriff to seek an adequate means of handling them that would make toward their own safety and the safety of officers.

BOARD LETS CONTRACTS FOR SCHOOLS

Work will proceed upon the construction of the Roosevelt Junior high school and the annex to the Nystrom school.

The board of education met at Lincoln school last night, and reached that conclusion.

The aggregate of the low bids on the two contracts exceeded considerably the estimates. The figures for the Junior high were $40,000 above the $200,000 that had been assumed necessary and sufficient, and the bids on the Nystrom Annex reached $34,000, whereas the estimates had placed that job at $20,000 in round numbers.

There is not going to be any delay in the work, except those delays which the elements and unforeseen agencies may bring about.

It is reported that all contracts were let, except the plastering and sheet metal work on the Roosevelt school.

Garbage Ghost Stalks In as Committee on Zoning Is in Session

High Lights of Wednesday's Meeting of the Zoning Committee.

Sell the present high school building for industrial purposes, if the need arises.—City Superintendent of Schools W. T. Helms.

Abandon selected site for Roosevelt Junior High School and purchase a site in some less crowded site north of Macdonald avenue.—George S. Wall, president of Richmond Industrial Commission.

Parks and schools yesterday afternoon occupied most of the time of the Committe of thirty-eight that is making the final recommendations on zoning Richmond.

Professor W. T. Helms gave a newsy piece of information by stating that it was the intention to later abandon use of the present High school building probably using it as another Junior High, and erect another High School in a section where there was less interference because of railroads and industry. The buildings now on the site might even be sold for industrial purposes, if manufacturers would buy them, he said.

A. K. Frye, industrial agent of the Southern Pacific advised against zoning for park or school purposes a triangular piece of land along the S. P. railroad just south of the High School site. He showed the interest the railroad company is taking in developing Richmond industrially by saying that all such sites should be reserved for plants, as there was plenty more for all other purposes.

Objection to Roosevelt Site.

George S. Wall said that the objection raised by Professor Helms to the present High School location would apply exactly to the site back of Tenth street on which it is proposed to locate the $200,000 Junior High school—a site jammed into a section close to that zoned for industry, where industries already exist and where there is noise of trains during the day—a noise that will grow as railroad and factory activities develop.

Wall asked if the land bought for a site for the Junior High School, which will be the finest educational structure in Richmond, could not yet be sold and a site north of Macdonald avenue, more central for the majority of pupils, and larger and freer of access be purchased instead. If the land bought for the Junior High could be sold at the prices paid for it an extensive site north of Macdonald could be bought.

Helms said that it was to the advantage of the school departments sometimes to have land that might develop industrial property and thus become valuable. He said the Junior High site was the most central and accessible in the city and Councilman Hartnett agreed with him.

Dr. Aronovici, arriving late because he had been in an automobile accident—it was whispered that someone down in Berkeley had run into him—was told what had been done and was in time to agree that the Canal Subdivision should be turned into light industry.

"Little Lake Merritt"

Mrs. K. A. Cole advocated retaining some portions of the harbor front property for a "second Lake Merritt." It was agreed that Attorney J. B. Cassell, representing the Mintzer estate, and City Engineer Chapman should confer on this subject.

Garbage Ghost Bobs Up.

The expert said a marsh site that could be filled was the best. Alameda had worked this out in a fine way, he said. His plan, he stated, would be to dump on a marsh land site and then fill with sand, building land that could be used for parking.

Other questions were fired at the expert and he finally said in a tone of acidity that he really was not an expert on garbage dumps, disclaiming any deep knowledge on that particular matter.

"We have wandered from the subject," said Chairman Garrard, with decision, and the garbage argument ended.

DE MOLAYS HAVE FINE BANQUET

The following program was given:

LONE RUN BY NELSON WINS CLOSE GAME

Refinery	1	0	1.000
All Standards	1	0	1.000
Barrel House	1	1	.500
Mechanical Shops	0	2	.000

The fans that jammed their way into the First street ball park yesterday were treated to a perfect exhibition of the national pastime when the Barrel House nosed out the Mechanical Shops, 1 to 0. Both teams played errorless ball in the field and the pitching was air-tight.

Cothran's Pitching Features.

"Lefty" Cothran, the Barrel House portsider, pitched wonderful ball, sending an even dozen Mechanics back to the bench via the strike-out route. He was touched for six hits but kept them well scattered.

"Dutch" Kogler went the entire route for the Mechanics, and turned in a good brand of pitching, letting the Barrel House sluggers down with but two singles.

Cothran was staked to a one run lead in the first when his teammates put a tally across without the aid of a single hit.

Nelson drew a pass, stole second, advanced to third on Schwake's sacrifice, and scampered across the plate when Desmond lifted a long fly to Schwake. That was all the scoring by the Barrel House, but it was enough. Cothran and Kogler pitched shut out ball for the remainder of the contest.

Mechanics Threaten, But—

The Mechanics threatened in the third. Lamarra beat out a bunt and was forced at second by Vianni. Schwake smashed a double to the right field wall, Vianni going to third. Cothran then settled down and struck out Beeson and Chamberlain.

AUTO DEALERS MEET, FEAST

"Tonight's meeting has been one of the biggest and one of the best in the history of our organization," said Secretary-Manager L. A. Girard, of the Contra Costa Auto Trade Association last night, when questioned touching the monthly meeting and banquet at the Coursing Park club house.

Every feature of the affair surpassed the hopes and expectations of the membership.

There were seventy-six dealers present.

Lud Johnson, of Richmond, told the tale of the fire in a pleasing and interesting manner. There were numerous other speakers.

Steve DeRosa, of Pittsburg, monologist and singer, gave a skit that got a hand, as did Frank Carey, of Oakland.

The menu was up to the standard of the club house, which means it was a masterpiece of the culinary art.

Every town in the county was represented.

The meeting was presided over by William Eddy, of Concord, president of the association. Girard had charge of the program.

The next meting will be held on Wednesday, June 14, in Pittsburg.

THINKOGRAPHS By F. J. HULANISKI

JAIL IS PLACE FOR TRAITORS.

We read of much howling over President Harding's refusal to receive and hear the pleas of children and mothers of convicts now serving sentences in Atlanta and other prisons for having obstructed the efforts of the Government during the anxious days of the war. These mothers and childern have no business in Washington. We all accord them much pity and are sorry for them because of their innocent misfortune, but this sob stuff is not applicable to men who turned traitors to the country in its dark hours of need and danger. They are the victims of the seditionists whom the Government for its own safety was compelled to shut up in prison. The disloyalty of these men imperilled the lives of the brave lads sent over seas, and the spread of their vicious propaganda threatened not only the life of our nation but all civilization as well. Thousands of mothers and children are also mourning over the deaths over yonder in the Argonne, in Flanders and elsewhere, and in the black abyss of ocean graves, and could these prisoners have had their way the number of national heroes who made the last and great sacrifice would have been largely increased. They are not "political prisoners." They were tried and convicted as common criminals under the Administraton of President Wilson, and President Harding is right in keeping them where they are. President Harding is as tender-hearted as any man, and doubtles sorrows for those mothers and children, but his duty to the nation and to all of the people must come first. These disloyal shoot-mouths knew what they were doing, and they are now merely paying a just penalty for failing to be patriots when every loyal man and woman of the country was setting such an example. There is altogether too much mush about criminals all over the country, which is one main reason that the crime wave continues to wave.

When it comes to broadcasting stations the sewing circle has always been hard to beat. Also the club or the pool hall.

We used to gather around the old family organ in the evening and sing hymns, but now we gather round the radio amplifier and listen to jazz.

Most of us are bound and determined to live within our means, if we have to borrow money to do it.

Instead of wasting time trying to grow that banana with the skidless peel, why don't Burbank give us a variety of garden peas with flat sides, so they won't roll off the knife?

Banker Morse seems to be finally up against it for using the mails to sell fraudulent steamship stocks. That rascal is an international crook and belongs in the penitentiary. He got there once and was let out to die, and then got well instead, just for ornariness.

That proposed tariff on cotton ought to keep out of competition pretty much all of the cotton raised by the Esquiman up around the Artic regions.

One thing that gives us that tired feeling, as well as spring, is to read in the dispatches about the activity of Japan in Siberia. We don't care two whoops in radio waves what Japan does in Siberia.

Two baseball fans got so excited over games in Detroit that they died from it. They must have had brains like a mustard seed, or else Detroit sure does put up a rotten game.

Wall street thinks our soldiers will sell their honor by accepting money for their service. They are the ones whose honor did not prevent them from looting the country of billions on war contracts.

A LOT OF ANCIENT BUNK.

We are continually reading of the wonderful civilizations ancient people had built up long before the Christian era or the time when Bryan first ran for office, but we don't believe a word of it. Ancient Greece and all the rest of those ancient countries and tribes that builded cities several hundred feet down below the sand over around the pyramids, where the camels amble around and go weeks without a drink, were all as much behind with our modern civilization as we are to the civilization that is yet to come, when the Golden Rule will prevail and honor and honesty take the place of greed and selfishness. Those old philosopher geeks used to sit around in gardens clad in a nightgown and a wreath of laurel leaves around their ivory domes and tell the suckers and hicks where to head in, while the people were plowing with forked sticks and earning two-bits a week packing rocks to build tombs for mummies wrapped up in carpet rags. They mowed their hay and grain with sickles, didn't know what a bath tub was and nobody had gumption enough to invent a shotgun or a fliver. They had no screens on the windows to keep the bugs out, but could spell for days about the Olympian gods and other Conan Doyle stuff. They had to go to bed when the chickens did, because they didn't even have lamps, much less gas or electric light, or even a tallow candle. They could tell all about the green and red dragons that battle around through space, in their minds, but had to ride a donkey or amble on foot for the want of a wagon. An Edison or a Ford knows more in a minute than those old bewiskered and bare-footed cave-dwellers did in a life time.

The dispatches state that a comprehensive survey reveals that only 65 percent of our women now wear corsets. Huh! How is a comprehensive corset survey made, and who by?

Get away from the old village environment and fliver a few days out through the country and you will find it more rejuvenating than a whole bushel of monkey glands.

American Corn, Seed and Medical Supplies Saving Millions of Lives and Bringing Hope to Russians

With seed for planting, grain to meet present food needs and medical and hospital supplies pouring into Russia, the march of death, famine and disease has been checked through the work of the American Relief Administration and allied agencies. More than 2,000,000 youngsters owe their lives to American food, and 5,000,000 adults are receiving relief as a result of the $20,000,000 appropriation made by Congress for corn and seed grain. Millions more find relief through the gift by Congress of $4,000,000 in surplus government medical and hospital supplies and by the American Red Cross of $3,000,000 in similar supplies to the American Relief Administration.

Col. William Haskell, director for Russia of the American Relief Administration, in a report to Herbert Hoover, chairman of the A. R. A., says that American supplies and determination are bringing life and hope to literally millions of Russian people.

The physical limits of rail transportation under present conditions constitute the gravest problem of the task. Russian railways were never of the first order, and at present their condition is extremely bad. There has been food on hand at the ports over and above the ability of the Soviets to move it in, from the arrival of the first ship to date.

Ten Prizes For Auxiliary Whist

The array of prizes—ten in number—which the American Legion Auxiliary are offering for players at their whist party to be given at Musicians' Hall Friday evening is stimulating a lot of interest from folks who are not exactly whist fiends.

That show window in Babyland, where the prizes are on display makes one think of Christmas or Easter or a lot of birthdays rolled into one.

Salts In Hot Water Clears Pimply Skin

Says we must make kidneys clean the blood and pimples Disappear

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urin, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulate the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and cleaning the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined wtih lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.—Adv.

Straw Hat Makes Meal For Pigs

"What's this I hear about the tragedy up in the country last Sunday? Ellen was telling me something about it."

"Tragedy. Why, sister, it would be funny if it wasn't so sad. Ned and I took the children up to Uncle John's, near Walnut Creek. Jane had on her new straw hat and she was so fond of it she wore it around the ranch and wouldn't leave it in the house, like she should have. It's a funny thing, but the younster had never seen any pigs before and she couldn't keep away from that pig pen. She was leaning over the fence and slipped and her hat bounced right among the pigs. Jane was afraid of the pigs and came running for Uncle John and when they got back to the pen the pigs were finishing a nice meal of straw, and a flower or two was all that was left. It broke the youngster's heart of course. And, as she hasn't a hat to her name she must have a new one. It's a good thing we know about Cherry's at 515 13th street. We'll get her a new hat, there when I go to get my new suit. One can pay practically anything they like down and make arrangements for satisfactory monthly payments."

Why Chilly Weather Brings Rheumatism

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfat each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. —Adv.

GIRLS! LEMONS
BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

Run Down?

Kidney and bladder troubles are not limited to men. Housework, or work in office or factory, causes women to suffer from weak, overworked or diseased kidneys. The symptoms are—puffiness under the eyes, sallow skin, constant tired feeling, lack of ambition, nervous condition, backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints.

Foley Kidney Pills

Mrs. Wm. Fischer, 3009 Woodbourne Ave., Louisville, Ky., writes: "I am just getting along fine. I am taking Foley Kidney Pills every other night. You should have seen me before I started. Grandma Never Let Her Hair Get Gray

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost, you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, and look years younger.

WHITE RAIL CAR AT GREAT FALLS, VA.

TAKING A HEAVY GRADE

Railroad officials have become much interested of late in the gasoline-propelled type of railway car. A number of short line railroads have been operating passenger cars of this type successfully for several years but it is only recently that the gasoline rail coach has come to attract wide attention on the part of railroad men, not only operators of short line railways, but officials of the country's largest transportation systems. The rail car makes its greatest appeal as the result of its simplicity and operating economy.

The latest and most improved type of gasoline rail car is shown in the accompanying illustration. The car, which is owned by the Union Transportation Company, of New Egypt, N. J., was the feature exhibit at the convention of the American Shortline Railroad association held recently in Washington, D. C. It is the second gasoline rail car to be placed in service by the New Jersey road.

The car was driven under its own power over the Pennsylvania railroad from Philadelphia to Washington and with various railway officials as passengers, made daily runs during the convention over the tracks of the Washington & Old Dominion Ry. from Washington to Great Falls and Bluemont, Va.

The car has a seating capacity of 41 and a baggage compartment directly in the rear of the driver who controls the car from the right-hand side. The body which is of semi-steel construction is mounted on a new rail car chassis, built by The White Company, truck manufacturers, Cleveland, Ohio. There is a four-wheel pivotal truck in front and two wheels in rear. It is governed to a speed of 33 miles per hour.

The Emporium Next Week Will Give Birthday Party

Even big business institutions sometimes celebrate their birthdays by giving a party and inviting all their friends to come and enjoy their hospitality. All next week The Emporium, San Francisco's great department store, is going to hold "open house" and will commemorate its twenty-sixth anniversary with Birthday Week Sales in all its many departments. Arrangements have been made in anticipation of business aggregating $1,000,000, which will mean vastly more merchandise than would normally be represented at that figure, for in the spirit of the occasion and through the co-operation of the manufacturer, prices have been generally marked at wholesale cost or better.

During the six years these sales have been its outstanding merchandising event, The Emporium has marked an ever increasing appreciation by people in the interior as well as in San Francisco of its sincerity in making the sale an expression of generous gratitude for a constantly growing patronage. This year the event will far surpass any of those preceding in its magnitude and scope. Two of San Francisco's largest hotels, the St. Francis and the Stewart, are cooperating by offering reduced rates to people from other cities who come to San Francisco to attend the sale. Free deliveries are being made within the 150 mile radius from San Francisco.

McPherson Charged Under Mann Act

Charges under the Mann act were prefered against D. J. McPherson yesterday by his former wife, Mrs. Adeline McPherson, of Richmond. He was taken to Oakland in the custody of United States deputy marshals.

The arrest came soon after McPherson had been discharged by Justice of the Peace John Roth on charges of failure to provide for minor children, issue of his marriage to Mrs. Adeline McPherson. The justice of the peace held that he was without jurisdiction in the case as it appeared that the two children are residing in San Jose.

The "other woman" in the case is reported to be Mae Moore.

RECORD-HERALD

by William MacLeod Raine

CHAPTER III.—On his first day in New York Lindsay is splashed with water by a janitor. That individual the range-rider punishes summarily and leaves tied to a fire hydrant. A young woman who sees the occurrence invites Clay into her house and hides him from the police.

CHAPTER IV.—Clay's "rescuer" introduces herself as Beatrice Whitford. Lindsay meets her father, Colin Whitford, and is invited to visit them again. He meets Kitty Mason by accident. She has been disappointed in her stage aspirations, and to support herself is selling c[illegible] in a cabaret. [illegible]y visits her [illegible]

CHAPTER V.—Kitty is in[illegible]ou by a customer, [illegible]y punishes the annoyer. After a [illegible] mixup Lindsay escapes. Outside, h[illegible] attacked by Jerry Durand and a com[illegible]on and beaten insensible.

CHAPTER VI.—Lindsay's acquaintance with Beatrice Whitford ripens. Through her [illegible] is introduced into "society." His "sid[illegible]rtner" on the Arizona ranch, Joh[illegible]reen, comes to the "big town."

CH[illegible]R VII.—The two take an apartmen[illegible]ther, Johnnie securin[illegible] employment ... the Whitford's as "handy man." An advertisement signed "Kitty M." conveys the information that she is in trouble and implores Lindsay to come to a certain house where she is imprisoned. Clay is dubious as to its authenticity, but finally decides to go. He makes his way into what he supposes is the right house a[illegible]ds himself in a young woman's be[illegible]

CHAPTER VIII.—Naturally the girl is reassured when Clay el[illegible] the reason for his unmeant intrusion, shows him how to enter the house by, after, through the roof. In the place comes on a party of "gunmen," obviously waiting for his appearance. Lindsay "gets the drop" on the things, locks them in room, and escapes.

CHAPTER IX.—With a theater party which includes the Whitfords, Lindsay meets Kitty Mason, friendless and penniless. He leaves the party to take the girl to his apartment, there seemingly being no other place available and Kitty in dire need of immediate food and warmth.

CHAPTER X.—Beatrice resents Lindsay's interest in Kitty. Though not admitting it even to herself, she is becoming attached to the Arizonan, as he is to her. The two part in anger.

CHAPTER XI.—Hurt and indignant, Beatrice practically proposes marriage to an old admirer, Clarence Bromfield, wealthy man-about-town, and the third member of the party which we met at the beginning of the story. Their engagement is announced. Durand's gang kidnaps Kitty. Clay appeals to the girl he had met the night he escaped the trap Durand had set for him. She tells him where the girl is likely to be found.

CHAPTER XII.—At the place, Clay conceals himself to await the arrival of Durand, probably with Kitty. He gets the thug alone, and in a fist fight worsts the professional bruiser.

CHAPTER XIII.—Kitty is rescued from her abductors by Johnnie Green, who has long admired the girl. He makes a declaration of his love and the wedding day is promptly set.

The clear eyes in the brown face told of a soul indomitable in a perfectly synchronized body.

Durand lashed out with a swinging left, all the weight of his body behind the blow. Clay stepped back, shot a hard straight right to the cheek and ducked the counter. Jerry rushed him, flailing at his foe blow on blow, intending to wear him out by sheer hard-hammering. He butted with his head and knee, used every foul trick he had learned in his rotten trade of prize-fighting. Active as a wild cat, the Arizonan side-stepped, scored a left on the eye, ducked again and fought back the furious attack.

The gangman came out of the rally winded, perplexed and disturbed. His cheek was bleeding, one eye was in distress, and he had hardly touched his agile opponent.

He rushed again. Nothing but his temper, the lack of self-control that made him see red and had once put him at the mercy of a first-class ring general with stamina and a punch, had kept Jerry out of a world championship. He had everything else needed, but he was the victim of his own passion. It betrayed him now. His fighting was that of a wild cave man, blind, furious, damaging. He threw away his science and his skill in order to destroy the man he hated. He rained blows on him—fought with head and knee and fist, was on top of him every moment, controlled by one dominating purpose to make that dancing figure take the dust.

Clay was cool, quite master of himself. Before the fight had gone three minutes he knew that, barring a chance blow, some foul play, or a bit of bad luck, he would win. He was covering up, letting the pugilist wear himself out, and taking only the punishment he must. But he was getting home some heavy body blows that were playing the mischief with Jerry's wind.

The New Yorker, puffing like a seal lion, came out of a rally winded and spent. Instantly Clay took the offensive. He was a trained boxer as well as a fighter, and he had been taught how to make every ounce of his weight count. Ripping in a body blow as a feint, he brought down Durand's guard. A straight left crashed home between the eyes and a heavy solar plexus shook the man to the heels.

Durand tried to close with him. An uppercut jolted him back. He plunged forward again. They grappled, knocking over chairs as they threshed across the room. When they went down Clay was underneath, but as they struck the floor he whirled and landed on top.

The man below fought furiously to regain his feet. Clay's arm worked like a piston rod with short-arm jolts against the battered face. Gasping for breath, Durand suddenly collapsed.

Clay got to his feet and waited for him to rise. His enemy rolled over and groaned.

"Had enough?" demanded the westerner.

No answer came, except the heavy, irregular breathing of the man on the floor, who was clawing for air in his lungs.

"I'll ask you once more where Kitty Mason is. And you'll tell me unless you want me to begin on you all over again."

The beaten pugilist sat up, leaning against the wall. He felt ashamed and disgraced by his defeat. Life for him had lost its savor, for he had met his master.

"She—got away."

"How?"

"They turned her loose, to duck the bulls," came the slow, sullen answer.

"Where?"

"In Central park."

Probably this was the truth, Clay reflected. He could take the man's word or not as he pleased. There was no way to disprove it now.

He recovered his revolver, threw the automatic out of the window and walked to the door.

"Joe's tied up in a back room," he said over his shoulder.

Thirty seconds later Clay stepped into the street. He walked across to a subway station and took an uptown train.

Men looked at him curiously. His face was bruised and bleeding, his clothes disheveled, his hat torn. Clay grinned and thought of the old answer:

"They'd ought to see the other man."

One young fellow, apparently a college boy, who had looked upon the wine when it was red, was moved to come over and offer condolence.

"Say, I don't want to butt in or anything, but—he didn't do a thing to you, did he?"

"That door must have had several edges." The youth made a confidential admission. "I've got an edge on myself, sort of."

"Not really?" murmured Clay politely.

"Surest thing you know. Say, was it a good scrap?"

"I'd hate to mix in a better one."

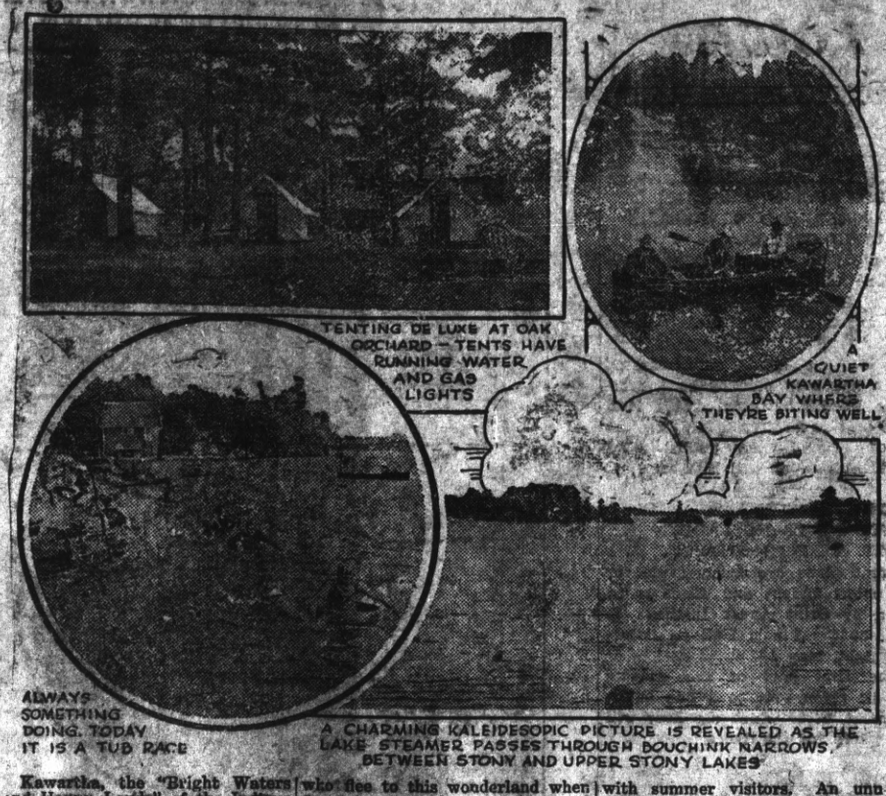
INDIANS' PLAYGROUND NOW WHITE MAN'S SUMMER RETREAT



Kawartha, the "Bright Waters and Happy Lands" of the Indians who roamed Ontario's woods in the long ago, is still a summer playground. A dozen lakes—Balsam, Cameron, Sturgeon, Pigeon, Bald, Sandy, Chemong, Deer, Lovesick, Stony, Clear and Katchewanooks—compose a seventy-mile chain of enchanting waterways and from this main chain depend many more smaller lakes connected by rivers and brooks.

Along the forest fringed shores where Indian camp fires used to flare to the tom-tom of savage drums, burn brightly through these summer lights the camp fires of white folks to the strumming of ukeleles, for countless camps and cottages, yes, and pretentious dwellings of city folks who flee to this wonderland when summer approaches, are scattered through Kawartha.

This summer land has several gateways, the principal ones being Bobcaygeon at the junction of Sturgeon and Pigeon Lakes at about the center, and Peterborough on the east on the Otonobee River, the outlet of Katchewanooko. Leaving Peterborough by boat, travelers have the unique experience of passing through the world famous Peterborough Lift Lock. Many prefer to enter this summer paradise by its middle door at Bobcaygeon, because of its picturesqueness and easy access.

Delightful resorts are scattered along the shores of all the lakes. Several good hotels and numerous cottages make Bobcaygeon popular with summer visitors. An unusual luxurious resort is Oak Orchard on Buckhorn Lake, while two comfortable hotels face each other across Buckhorn Falls, one of them having a cottage colony. Park Hotel at Burleigh Falls is very popular with the fishing fraternity as excellent fishing is to be had in the surounding waters. Stony Lake is a veritable summer colony. Its shores and many islands are dotted with cottages, running the gamut from shack cabins to rather palatial affairs. Then too, there are dozens of hotels ranging from fisherman's lodges to fine summer hotels. Stony Lake always presents an animated scene being covered with canoes and motor boats and great gayety marks its summers.

"Daring Danger" Is Thriller At Macdonald Theater

"Daring Danger," the western photo drama starring Pete Morrison and which will be the feature attraction at the Macdonald theatre today, introduces a new kind of western thriller with many new western thrills, devised by Pete Morrison, Rodeo Champ and "Brownie" his celebrated pony co-star.

A handsome cowpuncher mounted on a handsome steed offers a combination that is hard to beat for the edification of the movie fans in their screen entertainment. In "Daring Danger," Pete Morrison as Cal Horton and "Brownie" give a wonderful exhibition of horsemanship and many new thrills are introduced.

Through force of circumstances, disqualified by the father of the girl that he hopes to marry, he arises manfully from the cloak of suspicion that envelops him. The manner of his getaway from a gang of outlaws and cattle thieves whom the U. S. Government had delegated him to capture, is an old trick amongst the old school cowpuncher who enjoyed life in the glorious west of the olden days, but a new one for the many movie fans who will see "Daring Danger." His riding will excite a thrill even to the old timers. Rapid action is carried out in his great ride for assistance, the great fight and final scene when the tangle is unwoven and his name is cleared and Horton successfully gains the blessing and consent of the father to marry the girl that he loves.

Pete Morrison achieves new laurels in this western thriller and his many followers will not be disappointed in the way of thrills when they see him in his latest cinema success "Daring Danger."

A Gub comedy entitled "The Stolen Umbrella" and a review make the bill complete.

News items always welcomed by the Record-Herald. Call Richmond 70 any time, day or night.

Capwell Starts Big Sale May 15

"Monday May the 15th Capwell's Downstairs Store will start one of the biggest sales ever taken place in Oakland," says Mr. J. O'Donnel Manager of the Downstairs Store. "The sale will last one week and we have spared no expense whatever to make this the biggest Downstairs sale ever given by the Capwell Co. Our buyers have made special trips East and to all of the eastern markets for merchandise expressly for this sale. Our Downstairs sales have always been the talk of the East Bay District from a bargain standpoint, but this one will cap them all for price saving event. We have planned special items for this sale, for hundreds extra salespeople and cashiers. Miss Watson, advertising manager of the Downstairs Store has been planning her advertising campaign for weeks for this sale, and she says from the prices given her to use in copy, she will certainly "crowd the old shop."

Goods of all kinds will be put on sale, ready to wear apparel, children's wear, men's furnishings, domestics, silk, wash draperies, undermuslins, shoes, millinery and in fact anything you want. See a complete list of these wonderful bargains in the full page ad in The Record-Herald Sunday morning.

My stomach, kidney and liver were in bad condition. The lower part of my body pained me awfully. I could hardly lie on either side and sleep. My bowels were hard to move and painful. I treated with other doctors and medicines, but did not seem to do me much good. After taking six weeks Kong Wah Herbs I feel like a new woman.

Stomach As Heavy As Lead

March 16, 1922.
I suffered from dysentery and difficult breathing, my bowels moving constantly with bloody discharges. I also had murming indigestion and my stomach felt as though there was a piece of lead in it. Failing to get relief elsewhere, I took the herbs of the FONG WAN HERB CO. for two weeks. My former complaints have left me entirely and I am now enjoying good health.

Suffered Unnecessarily
Oakland, Feb. 3, 1922.
At intervals I suffered severe pleurisy pains which began in the right side of my chest and ran around under my arm into my shoulder blade. It was both painful and difficult to raise my arm. I had taken various sorts of treatment for the trouble, but had found no relief.
Now, after seven weeks of the FONG WAN HERBS, the pain in my chest is entirely gone and I feel quite well. I bought the herbs in packages and cooked them at home.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Richmond citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Mrs. A. Kukar, 1308 Bissell Ave., Richmond, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for attacks of kidney trouble and they have helped me wonderfully. My back was so weak and lame, I could hardly do my housework. I felt dull and run down. I often had dizzy headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills at these times and they gave me prompt relief. They regulated my kidneys and relieved my aches and pains."

Flapper Paint And the Kind Indians Like

Comparison of the scented paints that the genus flapper of the white race uses for her cheeks and lips, and the ancient colors considered artistic by the American Indian, were made Tuesday night by Red Fox, Blackfoot Indian, Mason and ordained minister of the M. E. church, in the course of a lecture at Wesley Methodist church.

Red Fox told his hearers some truths touching the early and the curent treatment of the Indians not calculated to enlarge the bump of national and racial conceit.

He will go to Berkeley, thence north, and from Yakima, Washington, will ride his famous pony across country to Denver.

DUPLEX ALCAZAR
Seven Savings with the 3-fuel stove

1. The Duplex-Alcazar burns gas or coal or wood. It burns them singly or together and changes from fuel to fuel in an instant.
2. It saves the fuel because the perfect heat control avoids spoilage and insures cooking par excellence.
3. It cuts fuel bills by enabling you to burn the fuel that is most suitable at the time.
4. It saves space because the Duplex-Alcazar with its three fuel capacity takes up no more room than one old-style stove.
5. It saves nerves because it never makes the mistakes you are subject to with the stove you now have.
